President Ira G. Rawn a Suicide.

The Coroner's jury impaneled to inquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn, late President of the Monon railroad, returned an open verdict Friday morning, but found that he died from a shot fired from his own weapon by his own hand. The verdict is as follows:

"We, the jurors sworn on oath to inquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn at his home in Winnetka, on July 20, find that he came to his death at 1:30 o'clock on the morning of July 20 from shock and hemorrhages caused by a bullet from his own revolver, fired by his own hand, but whether this was accidental or with suicidal intent this jury is unable to determine, except that the location of the wound and the type of revolver render the accident theory less probable."

The verdict was so worded as to show that Mr. Rawn was believed by the jurors to have been responsible for his own death, but the question of suicide or accident was left to be fought out by the family and the insurance companies. It took several hours' deliberation to reach a finding.

One of the chief points involved in the long discussion was how to word the document in such a manner as not to deprive Rawn's family of any legal rights the members might have under the $110,000 of accident insurance policies left by him.

Two of the six jurors held out for a long time for a verdict of suicide, two others held to the accident theory. The verdict was a compromise between these divergent views.

KING REDMON

One Man Killed in Shotgun Duel.

In a duel with shotguns near Athens in Fayette county, Sunday afternoon, Jason Walker Bentley, a white-haired old man, 68 years of age, killed his antagonist after he had himself received what will probably prove fatal wounds.

The other principal in the bloody battle was Roger Hanson Pryor, twenty years younger than his foe, a member of that neighborhood and who is widely known throughout Central Kentucky and in the larger cities of the West as a breeder of game chickens as an expert handler of the birds in the fighting pits.

Pryor used a double-barreled shotgun loaded with No. 7 shot, and emptied both charges into the body of Bentley. Bentley was armed with a single-barreled gun charged with No. 6 shot, and although reeling from the two wounds he had received, he balanced himself a moment, and then sent the single load of his gun straight into the heart of his enemy, who was standing with smoking weapon about thirty yards away. Both men were farmers and had lived near each other in that neighborhood practically all their lives.

Bentley stated that he told Pryor that other people's tobacco patches were as full of weeds as his son's. Pryor, he said, called him a liar and threw several stones at him. Bentley told him he was too old to fight him with his fists but he would go get his gun and make it more even.

"If you want to fight with guns, that suits me," and started to his home.

Bentley walked to his house, which was slightly nearer than Pryor's and securing his gun returned to the spring.

As he stood there Pryor came up the road with a double-barreled gun, and when about thirty yards away raised his weapon and fired both barrels in quick succession. Bentley states that the shock of the last shot turned him half way around, but managing to keep his balance, he turned toward Pryor and fired the one load which his gun contained.

Pryor fell and died before his wife, who had heard the shooting could reach his side.

Coroner J. D. Kiser, of Fayette, visited the scene Sunday afternoon and held an inquest. After hearing the testimony of Pryor's wife and reading the statement made by Bentley, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Pryor was killed by Bentley in self defense.

Pryor was a son of the late Samuel Pryor, of Bourbon county, and the early years of his life were spent here. He was forty-seven years of age and is survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Gloria Pryor, who is studying for her stage in New York. The deceased was a brother of Mr. Jack Pryor, formerly of Bourbon.

The funeral services will be held at the grave in the Paris cemetery today at 12:30 p. m.

BIRTHS.

—Born, Sunday, July 30, to the wife of James Batterton, a son, first born.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, one of the oldest residents of Carlisle, died Friday after a long illness of the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Ross was the widow of Judge William Parks Ross, who was one of the leading lawyers of the State and for many years pastor of the Carlisle bar. She was seventy years of age, and is survived by several grown children—Mrs. Ed Ingels, of Millersburg, and Mrs. G. S. Templeman, of Carlisle, and Attorney H. E. Ross, of Lexington; Attorney I. B. Ross and Mr. William P. Ross of Carlisle.

—Mrs. Bettie Terry, widow of Mr. Thomas Terry, died at her home on Twelfth and Main yesterday about noon. Mrs. Terry was born near Paris, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Moss. In early life she united with the Methodist Church, and died fully relying upon the promise of a blessed resurrection. Arrangements for the funeral have not been perfected, but the exercises will probably be held Thursday. Announcement to be made in Wednesday's papers. Mrs. Terry is survived by two sons, T. Philip Terry, of Mexico City, Mex., and Frank Terry, of Kansas City, Mo., and four daughters, Mrs. William Warren, of Lexington, Mrs. Bert Swearingin, of Denver, Col., and Miss Margaret Terry and Miss Beatrice Terry, of this city.

—Mr. Jacob L. Embry died Sunday afternoon at 12:25 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, Enoch Grehan, in Lexington, after an illness of more than two weeks as the result of toxic poisoning, supposedly caused by eating vegetables that had been affected by recent heavy rains.

Mr. Embry had virtually recovered from the first attack and was able to walk about the house, when on Thursday about 4:30 o'clock he received a stroke of paralysis, so severe that it rendered him unconscious, in which state he remained until the end.

Mr. Embry was in his sixty-eighth year, and was the father of Mrs. Enoch Grehan, Miss Dove B. Embry and W. R. Embry of Lexington, and Mrs. R. J. Hayden, of Luiguan, P. I., Mrs. John Tablett of North Middletown, John Embry, of Providence City, Texas, Hugh Embry and Mrs. Dick Weaver, of Ashville, N. C., all of whom survive, his wife having died some fifteen years ago. He was a brother of Mrs. Eliza Allen of Lexington, and Mrs. Malinda Mitchell, of Mt. Sterling.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. I. J. Spencer officiating, with Rev. John Shouse assisting.

Scarcity of Genuine White Oak Timber.

Washington, D. C., August 1.—It will surprise most persons who know something about oak to be told that the so-called white oak timber of our markets is often a mixture not only of various species of the white oak group but also of other species, such as the red oak. This generally unknown fact is reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which, as a part of its forestry work, is frequently called upon to pass judgment upon the identity of market woods in dispute.

Foresters divide all the oaks into two distinct groups—the white oak group and the black oak group. One way of distinguishing the two is by the fact that the black oaks require two years to mature their acorns, while the white oaks take but one. The woods of the two groups of oaks were also structurally different. The true white oak, known to botanists as quercus alba, is merely one of the species which make up the "white oak group. Red oak on the other hand, belongs to the black oak group. Red oak has a number of other common names, among them mountain oak, black oak, and Spanish oak.

There is so much confusion in the ordinary use of names of the oaks that it is almost impossible to keep them straight without resorting to the scientific names, but the marketing of wood of the black oak group as white oak is hardly fair to the consumer. Red oak, for instance, is now much more abundant than white oak grows faster, and is generally regarded as inferior. The two species often grow together and occupy the same general region.

In the early days of its abundance, market white oak was derived almost entirely, it is safe to say, from quercus alba, the true white oak. This species combines approximately the most strength and toughness of any of the timber oaks, excepting possibly the southern live oak, which in the colonial days was so highly prized for ship building that it was protected by special laws. The immense inroads made upon the apparently inexhaustible white oak forests, which stretched from the Atlantic seaboard to about Missouri, gradually so reduced the supply that the use of other species became inevitable.

At the present time it is almost impossible to obtain a consignment of white oak that does not contain pieces of some other species. Of the white oak group those most used, in addition to the true white oak, are bur oak, chestnut oak, chinquapin oak, swamp white oak, cow oak and overcup oak; of the black oak group, Texas red oak, red oak and spotted or water oak.

Real white oak timber of number one quality is very largely cut into quarter sawed boards, while a combination of one or more white oaks and red oak may constitute other cuts of white oak. In many markets, the term "cabinet white oak" is now understood to include a mixture of white oak and red oak, while it often signifies red oak only.

The question, "What is white oak?" is now coming up among consumers and manufacturers of commercial oak timber. The above named white oaks are distinct but closely related species, which together must be depended upon for the future supply. For the ordinary purposes for which true white oak is used, practically all the tree of this group yield woods that can be interchanged and will serve equally well.

Meeting Booked for Lexington.

A meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee, of the Ninth district, will probably be called by Chairman Will Young, of Rowan, to meet in Lexington during the Blue Grass Fair in August for the purpose of choosing a member of the Democratic State Central Committee to succeed William Addams, now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Col. R. E. Wilson, of Lewis county, and Gordon Selzer, of Mason county, are mentioned for the place.

Glenn H. Curtiss at Blue Grass Fair.

The whole people of Central Kentucky are interested and excited over the announcement that the famous Glenn H. Curtiss aeroplane, which made the record flight from Albany to New York City, will appear at the Blue Grass Fair and will give daily exhibitions beginning Sunday, August 7, and continuing through the following Saturday, August 13.

No aviator of modern times, not even excepting the famous Wright Brothers, has attained such international prominence as has Mr. Curtiss. He has completed in different European meets, always with distinction to himself and always with such results as have reflected credit upon his country.

These aeroplane flights will not only be intensely thrilling and interesting, but will also be of large educational value. There is no question in the minds of close students of events but that transportation through the air will be so developed within the next few years as to become practicable for all purposes and a matter of general use.

Mr. Curtiss and those associated with him, as pioneers in the line of such development, will attain as great fame in the history of mechanical achievement as did Fulton with his steamboat, Bell with his telephone and others of the geniuses of the past whose names are household words.

Let it be remembered that these flights will be made each day during the entire week of the Blue Grass Fair and also on Sunday August 7, so that the people of Central Kentucky will have seven days, from August 7 to 13, inclusive, in which to witness a performance that is worth going hundreds of miles to see. One or more days during the fair, when weather conditions are especially propitious, there will be a race between the Curtiss aeroplane and one of the fastest horses on the ground, the horse being given such a handicap as to equalize matters and afford a close and exciting race.

While outstanding in importance, the aeroplane flights are but one feature that goes to make up a daily program for each day of the Blue Grass Fair that could not be excelled. The famous Thavru Russian Band, with its great troupe of Russian singers and dancing girls, the Herbert A. Kline Carnival Company's great aggregation of shows, conceded to be the best in the entire country, one saddle stake of a thousand dollars two of three hundred dollars each, running and trotting races daily bringing together many of the best horses in the country are features that by themselves should serve to attract to Lexington such crowds during the week of August 8 to 13 as never before visited a Kentucky fair.

SOUTH'S CORN EXHIBIT WILL CREATE FURORE

One of the Big Features of the Ohio Valley Exposition.

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— The general impression that the Middle West has a monopoly on the raising of corn promises to receive its quietus at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24. In assembling the industrial, products and resources which will make up the Southern exhibit at the Exposition, the representatives of the various railroads in the South are giving particular attention to securing examples of the South's natural wealth of which the outside world knows little or nothing. And working along this plan, special efforts are being made to secure a large and classy exhibit of corn grown in various sections of Dixie, with the idea of impressing visitors to the Exposition that the South will grow anything that any other section can produce, and in just as high quality. For some years the matter of experimenting with the growing of corn has been progressing in the South, with the result that experts now boldly announce that with proper application and the employment of up-to-date methods of cultivation, the South can be made the greatest corn-producing section of America. Reports from the Department of Agriculture in Washington give interesting figures on this experimental work. In South Carolina a boy, devoting all his time and knowledge to corn planting and cultivating, succeeded in raising 152½ bushels to the acre in a section where the average yield was but 16 bushels per acre. In Virginia nearly 1,000 acres were planted and cultivated under improved methods, with the result that an average

OTHER NOTED MEN TO ATTEND

Governors of Various States and Mayors of Cities of the Ohio Valley Promise Support to the Enterprise and Express Their Intentions of Visiting Cincinnati During the Great Exposition.

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— While no foreign potentates or visitors of royal birth have as yet announced their intention of attending the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will be held here next fall, a sufficient number of acceptances to invitations have been received from noted men of America to make the absence of foreign notables felt not at all. One of the first promises to attend the Exposition from men of international reputation was received from President Taft, who, besides praising the objects for which the Exposition will be held, declared his intention of spending at least a week in Cincinnati during the time of the progress of the big industrial enterprise. Following the acceptance of President Taft came others from Governor Deneen, of Illinois; Governor Harmon, of Ohio; Governor Glasscock, of West Virginia; Governor Marshall, of Indiana; Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, and Governor Willson, of Kentucky. Later came assurances from all the mayors of the cities of the Ohio Valley, promising their support to the enterprise and expressing their intentions

IS GOING OUT OF STYLE

Fashions change in warships as in everything else. The "Indiana," pictured above, was the latest thing in battleships during the Spanish-American war. Today she is almost passe. For comparison, models of the "Indiana" and the latest type of battleships will be shown at the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24.

yield of 41 bushels per acre was secured. In Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas similar good results have been obtained by scientific cultivation, so that it is a reasonable estimate to make that 45 bushels to the acre can be secured with proper care and attention. Many cotton planters are turning to other staples as part of their annual crops because of the blighting work of the cotton boll weevil, and those who have taken up the growing of corn are finding that it promises more than any other product. The display of Southern-grown corn at the Ohio Valley Exposition promises to be comprehensive and of excellent quality, and those assembling this exhibit declare that it will compare in every way with the best examples that will be offered by growers of the Ohio Valley or the prairie states.

POWER BOAT OF CONCRETE
NOW BEING CONSTRUCTED

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— What probably will be the first boat built of concrete navigating by its own power will soon be constructed in this city for use on the Miami and Erie canal during the Ohio Valley Exposition, which opens Aug. 29 and closes Sept. 24. This boat will be built on plans devised on information received from the United States War Department in regard to the construction of barges of concrete for use on the Panama canal work. It has been found that barges of this kind can be constructed more economically than wooden barges, and that they are just as easily handled as ordinary barges, with the advantage that they can be more readily cleaned of sea parasites than wooden barges. The method of construction is similar to that employed in erecting concrete buildings, in that the concrete is spread over wire framework, making a perfectly rigid and waterproof surface throughout.

It is planned to utilize this boat to tow pleasure barges, also constructed of concrete, on the canal during the Exposition, the barges to be brilliantly illuminated and each supplied with musicians, a sort of continuous water carnival being thus inaugurated, the beauty of which will be augmented by the canal and brilliant illumination.

FAMOUS POTTERY MAY GIVE DEMONSTRATIONS

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— Efforts are being made to have the Rookwood Pottery, Cincinnati's famous home of ceramics, place a working model in the Ohio Valley Exposition. It is the boast of the Rookwood management that it produces no duplicates—that every piece of art ware produced by its associates is an original. If this display is made, it will show how the various kinds of vases and other pieces are fashioned, and it is believed that arrangements can be made by which prospective buyers may be allowed to place their autographs upon such pieces as they may select and have them decorated, glazed and produced later on. This practice has been pursued with a number of noted actresses and actors who have visited the Rookwood Pottery, including Mme. Schumann-Helneck, Eleanor Robson, Madame Modjeska, E. S. Willard and others, and it is believed that it would add much to the attractiveness and general interest of the ceramic display at the Exposition.

Slayer of Alma Kellner Captured

Joseph A. Wendling, accused of the murder of little Alma Kellner, in Louisville, Ky., was arrested in San Francisco Saturday by detectives of the police department of that city. Wendling admitted his identity but protested his innocence of the crime.

A few hours after the arrest, Captain of detectives John P. Carney, of Louisville, arrived to learn that his 11,000 miles search for Wendling had been crowned with success. It was at telegraphed tip from the Kentucky detective which led to the capture.

In his relentless pursuit of the supposed murderer, Carney many times lost the trail, but the secret of the whereabouts of his quarry always lay with Mrs. Cora Muena a milliner of Hume, Mo. It was from her home that Carney flashed the information that led to the arrest.

It seemed the irony of fate that the only respectable woman found by Carney to have been connected with Wendling during his wanderings should have been the unconscious means of betraying him.

Mrs. Muena met Wendling at the home of her aunt in Houston, Texas, and before she returned to Hume, she was engaged to the dashing young Frenchman, who jazzed the aunt with tales of his wealth in France, which would come to him with the death of his aged father. Before Mrs. Muena left Houston she grew to fear Wendling and after she returned to Hume broke the engagement.

Wendling in the company of Detective Carney will leave today for Louisville to face the charge against him in that city from which he fled.

His confident manner in expressing his desire to face the murder indictment and have the thing over has all the earmarks of sincerity.

He protests his innocence and says the Louisville murder charge don't worry him as much as the thoughts of meeting the irate brother-in-law, Louis Arnold, whose wrath, he says, caused him to leave home hurriedly.

Cantrill, J. A. Gano, R. H. Anderson and Ed Wiley. The board will meet again today to appoint successors to serve until the regular fall election. FRIDAY.

Opportune hitting in the early sessions was responsible for the defeat of the Hustlers at White Park Friday afternoon, when the Bourbonites drove Lewis from the mound in the second inning after he had been pounded over the lot for four safeties, two of which went for extra bases, and which netted the locals a couple of runs in the two sessions.

Lewis had walked a couple and his benders were just to the liking of the Bourbonites who were persistent in their efforts to put the ball in safe territory when men were on the bases. Seeing the efforts of the Hustlers' southpaw were too weak for the Bourbonites, "Daddy" Horn yanked him out of the game and sent in the grizzled Atwell to put a stop to the slugfest.

Atwell put a stop to the hitting but the game had been snugly tucked away in the first two sessions and the locals had no cause to fear of being overtaken with Poole dispensing an assortment of puzzlers that rendered hitting, with the bases occupied, an utter impossibility.

In the opening session after two were out the Bourbonites sent over a couple of runs. Schmidt the first up fanned and Kuhlman waiting, drew a pass. McKernan flied out to Horn and Goodman hitting a hot one to Lewis that could not be handled was safe at first, Kuhlman taking third. Scott followed with a clean drive to center scoring Kuhlman, Goodman reaching home on an error by Horn.

In the session following the Bourbonites added two more. Chapman led off with a bagger to right and was advanced to third on Holder's sacrifice. Poole grounded to Black who threw Chapman out at the plate. Schmidt looked over four bad ones and Kuhlman doubling to the right territory scored both runners. Atwell then relieved Lewis and McKernan was retired on a grounder to the pitcher.

In the third Paris added another when Goodman the first up smashed the ball to center for a couple of bases and stole third. Scott flied out to Coleman and Barnett drew a pass. Chapman hit to Atwell who threw high to Mullins, Goodman crossing the pan. Holder fanned and Poole hit into an out, retiring the side.

In the seventh inning Winchester made their only tally which was the result of the timely three bagger by Atwell. Black grounded to Barnett and Horn hit to center for a base and scored on Atwell's drive to the fence for three bases. The Bourbonites put over another in their half. Schmidt drew a pass and stole second taking third on Kuhlman's grounder to Kitcher. McKernan hit a long fly to center and on the out Schmidt scored. Score: Winchester.....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-1

Paris.....2 2 1 0 0 1 0 x-6
Batteries—Paris, Poole and Holder; Winchester, Lewis, Atwell and Horn. Hits—Winchester 8; Paris 6. Errors—Paris 1; Winchester 2. Earned runs—Winchester 1; Paris 1. Two base hits—Chapman, Kuhlman, Barnett, Goodman.

Three base hit—Atwell. Sacrifice hit—Holder. Sacrifice fly—McKernan. Stolen bases—Kitcher, Schmidt, Goodman, Chapman.

Bases on balls—off Lewis 2; off Atwell 2; off Poole 2. Struck out—by Lewis 1; by Atwell 1; by Poole 8.

Passed balls—Holder. Four hits and four runs off Lewis in 12-3 innings. Double play—Holder, Scott. Left on bases—Winchester 9; Paris 5. Attendance—600. Umpire—Knapp.

NOTES.

Scott delivered the hit that brought in the first two runs of the game.

Of course it was a one sided affair, the Bourbonites outplaying the Hustlers all the way. Their hits were more numerous however, but they did not come when needed.

Rounding to again, is the opinion of most everyone who saw the locals put it over the Hustlers.

Two baggers came in profusion, two being made off of Lewis and the same number off of Atwell.

Atwell's three bagger in the seventh sent Horn over the rubber with the only run the Hustlers were able to get.

Lewis was just to the liking of the locals when they needed the safeties. Horn saw his mistake, however, after it was entirely too late.

Goodman's layoff evidently did him a world of good as he hit the ball twice into safe territory, stole a base and scored one of the runs.

Poole slowed up after the game had been neatly tucked away in the first three innings and only extended himself when in a tight place.

Poole fanned eight of his opponents and only gave two bases on balls. Kitcher as the recipient of the only two free rides the Paris twirler presented to the Hustlers.

Coleman made a nice catch of McKernan's high fly in the seventh, but he could not recover himself in time to retire the fleet-footed Schmidt at the plate, who scored on the sacrifice.

Holder, the star backstop of the Bourbonites, was back in the game after an enforced layoff for ten days with a dislocated thumb. He caught a grand game and by quick fielding and accurate throwing was the principal in a neat double play in the eighth.

Schmidt's two runs were the result of bases on balls. He showed a wonderful amount of speed on the bases, his steal in the seventh when he pilfered a couple of bases was a beauty. Schmidt keeps the fielders on edge whenever he gets on base and can be counted on most every time to circle the bases. Such a base runner is great help to any team no matter if he isn't hitting the ball with regularity.

SATURDAY.

The Bourbonites and Colts split in a double header at Lexington Saturday afternoon, McKernan and his tribe capturing the opener by a narrow margin but lost out in the second when the colts piled up tallies until the number of four were reached and the energy of the Bourbonites was centered too much on keeping the Colts from running away that they forgot the use of the stick and came out with the smallest end of the argument that was possible for them to receive.

McCormick and Kline were the centers of attraction in the first part of the day and kept hits so far apart that the Colts were benefitted only in one inning. Kline dished out an assortment of the crossfire mixture and the Bourbonites binged about the number of eight.

Lexington scored in the second inning when Yancey down, Sinex hit hard over second base and came home when McCormick threw Ellis' sacrifice to the right field fence. In the round following the Bourbonites put over their first tally. Thau had perished and McCormick slammed the ball to center and Kuhlman hit over Kline's head for a base. McKernan hit to left and McCormick came home on the throw to Glenn. Kuhlman reached third and McKernan second. Kuhlman came home on a wild pitch but was sent back to the base for some reason, nobody seemed to know. Kaiser flied to Yancey and Kuhlman was caught at home.

In the eighth session after two men had been retired, Kaiser worked the cross-fire artist for a free passage to the first station and Goodman drove the pill into safe territory for a couple of sacks Kaiser crossing the rubber before the batter reached second. Scott flied to Myers for the last out. Score: Paris.....0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0-2

Batteries—Paris, McCormick and Thau; Lexington, Kline and Keifel. Hits—Paris 8; Lexington 5. Errors—Paris 1; Lexington 1. Earned runs—Paris 1. Two base hit—Goodman. Base on balls—off Kline 3. Left on bases—Lexington 4; Paris 6. Sacrifice hits—Ellis, Goodman, Scott.

Double plays Viox, Kimbro, Meyers; Yancey, Keifel; Viox, Meyers. Passed balls—Keifel. First base on errors—Lexington 1. Time—2:00. Umpire—Knapp.

SECOND GAME.

The second part of the entertainment was a little better from a Lexington point of view but worse for Paris and the contest closed with the Colts four runs in the lead against which the Bourbonites placed a cipher.

Kellogg, the great, was pitted against Winchell and the big leaguer performed, not extra well, but just enough to keep the Bourbonites from reaching the plate. Winchell seemed to be more of a habit with him than anything else. Eleven of the Bourbonites were given free rides but funny as it may seem, not one was able to get all the way round. Sixteen were left on bases, two of the number reaching third and nine getting to second.

The Colts took a good lead in the first round. Viox hit to right and Glenn sacrificed. Yancey hit to right for two bases scoring Viox and after stealing third came home on Myers' single. In the fourth they added a couple more. Sinex doubled to center and Meyers sacrificed. Ellis followed with a three bagger and came home on a squeeze. The score: Lexington.....2 0 0 2 0 0 0 0-4

Batteries—Paris, Winchell and Thau; Lexington, Kellogg and Keifel. Hits—Paris 3; Lexington 6. Errors—Paris 2; Lexington 2. Earned runs—Lexington 4. Two base hits—Yancey, Sinex. Three base hits—Ellis. Bases on balls—off Kellogg 11; off Winchell 1. Stolen bases—Glenn, Meyers, Yancey, Kaiser, Schmidt. Struck out—by Kellogg 9; by Winchell 4. Left on bases—Paris 16; Lexington 4. Sacrifice hits—Glenn 2; Meyers, Kimbro. Wild pitch—Kellogg. First base on errors—Lexington 2; Paris 1. Hit by pitcher—Scott. Time—2:10. Umpire—Knapp.

NOTES.

The effectiveness of Kline's cross-fire seems to be about at an end.

Lexington always has a fault to find no matter how much they are given.

To break even with the Colts on their home grounds was enough to expect.

Much time was lost in the disputes which followed several close decisions of Umpire Knapp.

Thanks awfully to King Welsh. Only called Kaiser a "bonehead" once in his report of the games.

Only three hits off of Kellogg. A great many considering the number he put within reach of the Bourbonites.

Always knocking the umpire but Lexington fans never overlook anything that they could term cowardly on the part of the other club.

Chapman was put out of the second game for shoving Knapp around following a strikeout. His suspension stands for three days and he will not be seen in uniform until tomorrow.

SUNDAY.

With the Pioneers one run to the good in the ninth inning in the game at White Park Sunday afternoon, the Bourbonites snatched victory from defeat in an exciting ninth inning finish by slamming the ball into safe territory when the Pioneer "speedmerchant," Sully, Creager lost his bearings in the final test, the locals winning a brilliant contest by a score of 3 to 2.

Creager, who heretofore has displayed his weakness in former games against the Bourbonites, kept the locals guessing for eight innings, during which time only five clean hits had been made off of him, and things were looking anything but pleasant for the locals when the last round of the contest was reached. Not once during the entire eight rounds did Creager show any signs of weakening and with the exception of one inning in the eighth did he allow the hits to come together.

On the other hand Poole, who has administered defeat after defeat to the Pioneers was steady all the way through with the exception of the first inning in which the visitors secured all but one of their safeties. With the air of confidence that is seldom seen among members of a ball club, Poole, with his teammates settled down and only three men reached the base in the eight sessions following.

After two men were down in the first inning Olson singled to right and stole second and scored on Whittaker's single to center. Whittaker stole second and came home when Bramblage hit to left for two bases. Those retired the side on a fly to Goodman.

In the fourth after two were out Paris added the run that increased hope. Kuhlman flied to Maloney and McKernan hit a stinger to Creager and was out. Kaiser hit safely over short and taking a lead to steal second Goodman slammed the ball into safe territory, Kaiser running all the way to the plate on the drive. Scott grounded to Olson and retired the side.

The final session proved disastrous to Creager and the Pioneers. McKernan led off with a stinger toward Tilford that was too warm to handle and went all the way to third when Kaiser sent the ball into safe territory. Kaiser made the second sack when the ball was flied to third. Goodman followed with the drive that broke up the game, McKernan and Kaiser crossing the rubber. Score: Richmond.....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-2

Batteries—Paris, Poole, Holder and Thau; Richmond, Creager and Elgin. Errors—Paris 2. Hits—Paris 8; Richmond 4. Earned runs—Richmond 2. Paris 3. Two base hits—Bramblage. Sacrifice hit—Whittaker. Stolen bases—Baird, Maloney, Olson, Whittaker, McKernan. Base on balls—off Poole 1. Struck out—by Poole 7; by Creager 4. Left on bases—Richmond 3; Paris 5. Time—1:45. Umpire—Hanley.

NOTES.

Mercy! What an exciting finish, as only the Bourbonites are able to do. Poole only fanned seven men which is one shy of his usual number.

Rooters were not lacking and in the final stride they were there with the goods.

Only three Pioneers reached the base after the first inning. Scott's error in the sixth was responsible for the first and a hit in the eighth and a base on balls in the ninth the other two.

A thousand people saw the game which was pronounced one of the snappiest seen on the local lot this season.

In the last inning Olson was caught in an effort to steal home while Bramblage was at the bat. Thau nipped him at the plate however after the batter had taken a healthy swing at the ball, which retired the side. This was followed by a long drawn out argument in which the Richmond players claimed Thau interfered with the batter, but Umpire Hanley would not allow the claim.

Holder is certainly playing in the worst of luck. Before the game had progressed half an inning, he suffered an injury to his right hand from a foul from Bramblage's bat and was compelled to retire from the game. About ten days ago Holder had a thumb dislocated by a fouled ball and the game Sunday was the second since the accident. His finger is badly bruised and the nail was almost torn off and the result will be that he will be out of the game for ten days at least.

MONDAY.

Paris lost to Lexington yesterday afternoon in a one-sided contest by a score of 4 to 0.

VARDEN & SON

A "Kicker" Comes Out in a Card.

Ed. News—Do you know that the average base ball fan is the worst sobber, the poorest loser and the most unfair sportsman in the world.

If their home team doesn't win most of the games they play the fan won't go near the ball ground, and it matters not how many games the team loses by one or two points; they have got to win—to receive any credit or bring out the fans.

If a player makes an error, he's rotten; no matter how difficult the chance that's what he's paid for—to get the ball ones.

If a batter strikes at a wide one, he has a bum eye; and if he waits and lets a good one go by, he is a dead one. If he attempts to make second on a base hit and gets caught, he's an ace wagon; if he doesn't try to make the second bag on a single, he has lost his ginger—too much night work.

He never could throw to second; get him a basket; he couldn't catch a balloon, roll 'em on the ground to him; rotten; bum; punk; he's a lobster are some of the choice expressions of the fans used in showing his disgust for a player who makes an error.

And the umpire—there never was a man born who could satisfy the fan or the player. If the ump was killed every time some excited fan requested it the management would have to keep a three hundred-egg incubator running over time to supply the demand in one minor league. He doesn't know the difference between a ball and a strike, and a balk by the visiting pitcher is never seen by him, even if everybody on the ground sings it to him. He is a thief when he decides a close decision in favor of the outside team, and if the home team gets the benefit of the doubt, "He's afraid to use his own judgment."

A man who wouldn't take a penny that didn't belong to him, in a business way will yell himself hoarse over a misplay or a wrong decision by the umpire that allows the home team to win. But if the game is lost by errors or close decisions—hurry home ladies. The home team one run behind in the last inning. McKernan hits past third and Kaiser follows with a single to center and each take an extra base. Still nobody out and two of the bases nearest to home occupied. Goodman stalks to the plate with his ever ready ash and stings the horsehide in an admirable fashion. Result: Two men come home and the game is won. Enough hitting for one day. Some luck, some ball playing.

A. KICKER.

New Preacher as Seen by Base Ball Writer.

Recently, says an exchange, the base ball editor of a metropolitan paper was sent to report the sermon of a new minister, as the religious editor was ill, and this is the copy he turned in:

"Quite a bunch was present last Sunday evening at the church owing to the presence of a new star and the box of boosters was anxious for a line on his work. Rev. — is certainly there with the goods and performed to the satisfaction of all present. Owing to the fact that this was his first appearance on the local grounds he was a little nervous the first inning. Encouraged by the coaches in the Amen corner he let himself loose and had the game well in hand from then on. His New Jerusalem slow ball is a peach and when he turned loose on eternal punishment his speed was terrific. As this was his first workout it is too early to try to predict a future for him, but if he can keep up the gait he started with it's him for the big leaguer next season."

Fined for Provoking an Assault.

Frank "Daddy" Whittaker, a member of the Richmond base ball club confessed judgment before Police Judge E. B. January Sunday night to the charge of provoking an assault and was assessed a minimum fine. Whittaker, it is alleged, became abusive toward President W. C. Ussery, of the Blue Grass League after the game in this city Sunday afternoon. The difficulty arose over the protest filed by the Richmond manager of the game between Paris and Richmond which resulted in President Ussery having a warrant sworn out for his arrest. Judge January reprimanded Whittaker for his action toward the President, stating that if such violation were to be passed up unnoticed that they would become numerous and would prove detrimental to base ball in this and other cities. Judge January was lenient with the ball player and let him off with the minimum fine of $1 and costs amounting in all to $3.50.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but blind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowels muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the movements of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Fleener, Unionville, Ind., F. Daniel, Saron, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For other request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the president of the Industrial and Orphans' Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for years. It has proved a most efficient medicine for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c, at Oberdorfer's.

The Proof of Goodness.

It is not a man's disposition that makes him good; it's his acts.

Won't Need a Crutch.

When editor J. P. Sossman, of Corneliuss, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica salve healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for ulcers, boils, burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, pimples, eczema or piles. 25c at Oberdorfer's.

Eliminating One Undesirable.

Make yourself an honest man, and then you may be sure there is one less rascal in the world.—Carlyle.

Took All His Money.

Often all a man earns goes to doctors or for medicine to cure a stomach, liver or kidney trouble that Dr. King's New Life Pills would quickly cure at slight cost. Best for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, jaundice, malaria and debility. 25c, at Oberdorfer's.

The Story of a Rose

By MARY A. BOWERS

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

If all the old books in the world could be opened at once and the articles found between their pages displayed to the world they would fill a museum. These inclosures would be made up of faded flowers, memoranda, bits of lace and occasionally a letter. And among those letters there would be found some that would wreck the peace of families. A librarian once told me that every book returned to the library was shaken and almost always something would drop out. How many of these articles could tell a love story?

I am—or was—a white rosebud. When I was born I don't remember any better than people remember when they were born. I was very young when I was plucked, and that is the earliest event in my life that I recall. It was a June morning, June 15 (I'll tell later why I know this), and most of the dewdrops on me had been absorbed by the air. A young man came into the garden. He was barely nineteen and as handsome as a picture. He wore no hat, and the sunshine poured in and out of his tumbled hair. He looked about among us flowers as if searching for one he especially wanted. Then his eyes lit on me. I was the only bud just opened. He plucked me and took me into the house. After breakfast he put me in his buttonhole and, calling his dog, set out down the road. Presently he stopped before a house, on the piazza of which stood a girl. She, too, was very young—only seventeen, I fancy—and was dressed in pure white, not a bit of color about her. The young man turned in at the gate and joined her.

"I have come to say goodby," he said. "I am going away this afternoon to take the position that has been offered to me."

I saw the girl change countenance. I don't think he noticed it, but you know a man has not the delicate perceptive faculties of a white rose. They sat down together on wicker chairs and chatted for a long while. It seemed to me that he would have liked to tell her that he loved her, but some reason interposed, probably the fact that he was just starting in life and both were very young. At any rate, he rose to go without having done so. But he did the next best thing. He offered me to her and told her that if she would keep me till he came again he would have a secret to tell her.

She tried to look indifferent when he called his dog and started back home. But as soon as he was well down the road she ran into the house, taking me with her, and up to her room, where she wept a long while. Then she noticed me on her bureau, where she had placed me, and put me in water. There I remained till she went to bed. Just before doing so she placed me in a book of poems.

In the morning as soon as she awoke she opened the book and kissed me. Then, lest I should fall from between the leaves, she pinned my stem to the leaf. Under me she wrote June 15.

This book of poems was to be my permanent home, a very fit dwelling place for a white rose. The girl read the book very often and always caressed me when she did so. A year passed, and when the next summer had gone she wrote under me on the margin of the page:

"Will he ever come?"

Years passed—I don't know how many, perhaps five or six—and he did not come. Then the girl went away, leaving me with her other favorites. More years passed. One day a man came into the room where I was and packed all the books, the one I was in among the number, and they were carted away. When the box containing me was opened a man took out my book dwelling and placed it on a shelf of a shop with other books.

I must have been by this time eight or ten years old. At any rate, my leaves were yellow and brittle, though my stem was still firm. One day a man came into the bookshop and asked if they had a certain book of poems. I was taken down and handed to him. He opened the cover, and when he saw the name written on the flyleaf I felt his hand tremble. Then he turned over the leaves till he came to the page to which I had been pinned. His fingers clutched the book in a sort of spasm.

"How much?" he asked the shopkeeper.

"Oh, you can have that for 10 cents." The purchaser tossed a bill on the counter and, forgetting his change, hurried away. The shopman called after him, but he did not hear.

I didn't recognize the purchaser till he saw me in the shop and what was written under me. Then I knew him, despite a full beard he wore. He took the book and me to his room in bachelor quarters, and there I remained a week. Then one day he wrapped us carefully in paper and took us to another city on a train. We there entered a house, and in a few moments a lady entered. The man looked at her and said:

"I have come at last."

The lady looked at him and uttered a little cry. He handed the book to her, open at the page to which I was pinned, and my dear mistress and I looked each other in the face again.

I now live with the two, who are married, and am considered the most precious thing in the house.

Wise Thought.

We need to be careful how we deal with those about us, when every death carries to some small circle of survivors thoughts of so much omitted and so little done—of so many things forgotten and so many more which might have been repaired.—Oliver Twist.

Pleasure as an End.

The man who chooses pleasure as the object of his life has no real haven, but is like a boat that beats up and down and drifts and drifts to and fro, merely to feel the motion of the waves and the impulse of the wind. When the voyage of life is done he has reached no port, he has accomplished nothing.—Henry Van Dyke

Reason for Her Choice.

"Yes, I love both Santa Claus and Jesus," a good little sister instructed her curious junior, "but I think I love Jesus best, 'cause he don't never ask if you've been good before he leaves you presents, an' Santa," voicing a disillusion, "when you grow big like me, you find he ain't never been true!"

Death a Leveler.

Let not the grandeur of any man's station render him proud and wilful; but let him remember, when he is surrounded with a crowd of suppliants, that death shall level him with the meanest of mankind.

Dead Perfection.

We heard it said of a certain man lately that he had no vices. He should get some. Every man should have a vice or two. Being a member of a lodge and wearing plumes and badges is better than perfection.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Not Satisfied to Be Half.

Young Widow—"You really ought to have a better half." The Bachelor—"Yes, but the trouble is, after a woman has been a man's better half for a few weeks she wants to be the whole thing."

Paterson Not So Many.

A Paterson (N. J.) woman was found by surgeons to be harboring a mole which has been ensconced in the region of her chest several months. That's nothing; we know a girl who has had a mole on her back for 13 years!

Men and Boys.

The boys do lots of things that the grown people frown at, but inwardly applaud. One is when they clap and stamp for a delayed entertainment to begin. The older people are tired of waiting, but don't dare show it.—Atchison Globe.

WALTER A. WOOD MOWERS

Are Different From All Others

When the late Walter A. Wood built his first mower in 1882 it was upon a principle entirely different from any other. That same principle today distinguishes our mowers from all others. It is the "floating frame" described so fully in our catalog. All manufacturers of mowers admit that the "direct under-draft" principle is the correct one—but they can't use it because genuine under-draft is possible only with the "floating frame" construction which is exclusive to Walter A. Wood Mowers. We feel justified in asserting that our mowers are: the easiest running; lightest draft; handiest to operate; least expensive to keep in repair and longest lived. The mower that leads on to buy. There are many other good points fully illustrated and described in our Catalog. Write for it today.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—Reports from the management of the Shelby County Fair indicate that the coming fair will be one of the greatest events of the kind in that county. August 24, 25 and 26 are the dates.

I have a few real nice yearling rams and yearling ewes, by imported rams, for sale.
22 St A. S. THOMPSON.
Both phones.

—The Boyle County Fair will begin at Danville August 3 and continue for three days.

—Danville Messenger: "H. C.
Bright sold to E. F. Spears & Sons of Paris, 2,000 bushels of blue grass seed at $1.55 a bushel. Mr. Bright said that this is the highest price he ever received for blue grass seed and further said that he had often retailed them at 75 cents per bushel."

—During the violent thunder storm Thursday lightning struck a tree on the farm of George H. Smith, about five miles west of Versailles, and killed twelve sheep which were nearby.
The lightning also struck a feed barn on the farm of James L. Gay, on the Lexington pike, three miles from that city but did no material damage to the building.

—Receipts of live stock at the Chicago market for the week of July 25 were 66,100 cattle, 87,700 hogs, and 111,900 sheep. The week's receipts compared with the previous week in round numbers increased 9,600 cattle, decreased 14,600 hogs and increased 3,800 sheep. Compared with corresponding week last year cattle increased 13,400, hogs decreased 1,400 and sheep increased 3,600.

—A. P. A'air & Sons, of Paris, report the following recent sales of Duroc Jersey hogs: To W. S. Right-myer, Owensboro, one boar pig $25; to
S. English Anderson, Mt. Sterling, one boar pig, $25; to Geo. T. Searce, Frankfort, one boar pig, $25; to W. J.
Spark, Mt. Vernon, one bred gilt, $340. Also sold three Southdown bucks to W. W. Kenny, Paris, for $60

—The Mt. Sterling Gazette says
"Blue grass seed is selling right along here and several crops were sold this week. I. F. Tabb being the purchaser.
The price paid was $1.50 cents per bushel. The threshing of wheat has been going on, but the yield is not good. Some of it has been delivered and is being sold at 65 cents per bushel for the best, while the inferior quality, which is the majority is bringing 75 to 80 cents."

—CYNTHIANA COURT.—The Democrat says "Auctioneer W. F. Renner reports about three hundred cattle on the market selling from $4.50 to $5.50. Five sows and pigs sold from $30 to $54. Forty stock hogs sold at $40 per hundred. Plug horses from $40 to $75 per head. Good horses from $100 to $150. He sold sixteen acres of land near Colesmanville for the Gross heirs at $60 per acre, Tom Redd, of Colesmanville, being the purchaser."

—Tobacco in Kentucky will be only one half a normal crop, unless ideal weather conditions prevail in August, according to M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture. Mr. Rankin says that the heavy rains have drowned out the tobacco and it is doubtful if it can be revived. He says the farmers will do well to get half a crop and will not do that well if the rains keep up or there is a drought in August. The weather has been wet for weeks and the tobacco has been frenched badly in many of the counties in the Burley district.

—County livestock inspectors, who have already been appointed in 41 counties in the State, will be given instruction in a school for such inspectors to be held in Louisville during the week of the State Fair. The school will also be open to the farmers of the State if they want to attend it.
This was decided upon at a meeting of the Livestock Sanitary Board of the State. The purpose of the school is to teach the inspectors what sheep scabies is so that they can go into a flock of sheep and pick out the animals which have scabies. They also will be taught how to treat the disease and it is believed that as a result of the instruction given at the school scabies can be stamped out in Kentucky and the quarantine which is working a hardship on sheep raisers be lifted. The school for the inspectors will be conducted by experts from the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington. These men will be sent to Kentucky to teach in the school during the fair.

A Poet's Estate.

After 57 years, the Russian courts have settled up the estate of the poet Gogol, celebrated in his day as a writer of lyrics. The poet died of hunger, kneeling before an ikon. The estate is valued at 43 roubles and 88 kopecks, or about $21.50.

Raise Turkeys.

Owing to the fact that the turkey has been domesticated but a comparatively short time, its flavor more nearly resembles wild owl than any of our domesticated birds, excepting the guinea and the fact that it is more easily digested because the fiber is shorter and yields more readily to the disintegrating process, given it a dietetic advantage over beef. Other fowls may share the honors of the Thanksgiving table, but they are perennially secondary to the popular turkey. It is a surprising thing to us that more do not raise turkeys. Every farm seems to be adapted to their culture, and by some painstaking on the part of the owner or his wife this popular bird can be made to contribute a good deal to the farm income. Some reasons do not appear to be favorable for the most successful results, but even in bad years some turkey raisers succeed fairly well. When there is a shortage, and there is usually one about Thanksgiving time, prices are very high and the demand does not seem to abate with rising prices.

A Prayer For the Horse.

A square deal for the horse is the petition which the Western Pennsylvania Humane Society has put into a fervent equine prayer and has posted in stables all over the city, says a dispatch from Pittsburg.

"To thee, my master, I offer my prayer: Feed me, water and care for me, and when the day's work is done, provide me with shelter, a clean dry bed and a stall wide enough for me to lie down in comfort. Talk to me.
Your voice often means as much to me as the rains. Pet me some times that I may serve you the more gladly and learn to love you. Do not jerk the reins and do not whip me when going up hill. Never strike, beat or kick me when I do not understand what you want, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me and if I fail to do your bidding, see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet."

"Examine my teeth when I do not eat. I may have an ulcerated tooth, and that you know is very painful.
Do not tie my head in an unnatural position or take away my best defense against flies and mosquitos by cutting off my tail."
"And finally, Oh my master, when my useful strength is gone do not turn me out to starve or freeze or sell me to cruel owner to be slowly tortured and starved to death, but do thou my master take my life in the kindest way; your God will reward you here and hereafter. You will not consider me irreverent if I ask this in the name of Him who was born in a stable. Amen."

Kenyon $15 Men's Suits

When you seek ECONOMY, ask your merchant to show you this $15 Suit.
Compare it with one that costs $25 and see wherein lies the difference. It does not lie in the wearing qualities, surely not in the style and fit. The great difference is one of price, caused by more than one reason—made in the largest factories of their kind in the world.

—The liveliest game since the organization of the Millersburg Athletic Association took place Saturday afternoon at the M. M. I. ball grounds between the local bunch and the Mt. Olivet team. A large crowd was present to witness the game. It was seen almost from the beginning that the visitors were out-classed, and long before the game was half over four boys had demonstrated to the public that a great change had taken place since last Saturday. When the bats were thrown down at the close of the ninth inning the score stood 14 to 0 in favor of Millersburg. The chief features of the game was the batting of the whole local aggregation which clouded the sphere all over the park and the pitching of Leer.

LOUIS VIMONT.

—Deputy Sheriff Ollie Marshall visited our town Saturday evening, plucking from thence, in some respects four of our chosen coons, and their absence with some for the next few days, will doubtless be conspicuous. Prince and —FOR SALE—First-class runabout, and well broken, handsome driving mare, not afraid of trains, automobiles, road rollers, interurban cars, etc. Apply to Millersburg, Ky.

—The Millersburg Dancing Club gave a dance to the visitors of the town and community Thursday evening from eight to twelve. The affair was impromptu, being held at the M. M. I. drill hall, and the evening was very delightfully spent. The music which was good was furnished by the Cynthiana orchestra. No invitations were extended but all the circle were present. About eighteen couples were on the floor at the same time.

—For the next thirty days beginning July 22, we will sell all grades on queensware and cut glass at greatly reduced prices. This is done to make room for our new fall goods. We have some splendid bargains in French and Haviland ware and choice pieces of cut glass. Come early while stock is at its best.

See Mr. Collier or call No. 45 either phone at Millersburg and your wants will be attended to promptly.

Miss Fleming has been ill for several weeks and her condition, it is feared, is serious. She is one of our most popular ladies, and active member of the Methodist church, a journalist of considerable ability and correspondent for the Kentuckian-Citizen. She is loved by all who know her. She stood the trip nicely and was resting well at last account.

John G. Carlisle Dies in New York.

John G. Carlisle, former Secretary of the Treasury, who had been critically ill for two days, died at his apartments in New York at 10:30 o'clock Sunday night of heart failure, accompanied by oedema of the lungs.

His remarkable vitality triumphed again over the depression which attacked him early Sunday morning, and to the surprise of his physicians he was resting comfortably for a few hours.

John Griffin Carlisle was born September 5, 1835, in Kenton county, Kentucky, and received a good education. He studied law with Hon. John W. Stevenson and Judge William B. Kinkead, and began the practice of his profession in 1857.

In 1859 he was elected to the Legislature and in 1865, after the Civil War, made the race for the State Senate, but was beaten by Mr. Benton. In the spring the Legislature declared the sea vacant, to which he was then elected. He was re-elected in 1869 and resigned in 1871 to become Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

He was elected to this position in August of that year serving the regular term and in 1876 was elected to represent his district in Congress. He was elected to be forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth and fifty-first Congresses and was elected to the United States Senate May 17, 1890, to fill a vacancy. He resigned to accept the portfolio of the Secretary of the Treasury in President Cleveland's cabinet in 1893, and served until 1897.

When the silver issue was raised in the Democratic party, Mr. Carlisle was a pronounced gold advocate. After retiring from the cabinet he went to New York City, where he made his home. He enjoyed a large and lucrative practice in the last, which retired his full time, and he never again entered politics.

An intestinal complaint of long standing, which wore down his vitality lay behind the technical fact of heart failure. He was attacked last spring by the same trouble, complicated by an ailment of the kidneys, and for a time hovered near death, but his remarkable vitality triumphed then as it seemed it might even in the illness which ended Sunday. Burial will be in the family lot at Covington.

Arrangements for Bourbon Fair.

A big midway attraction with the addition of a number of free attractions of unusual merit is in store for the thousands of visitors from Bourbon and adjoining counties who will attend the Old Bourbon Fair, the sixty-fourth annual exhibition of which will take place on the grounds of the association, near this city, September 6-10.

Chairman F. P. Lowry, Secretary Chas. A. Webber and Mayor John T. Hinton, who compose the amusement committee, closed a deal Friday with the Paris Gas & Electric Company for the lighting on the grounds with a number of large arc lights and myriads of incandescent lights for each evening during the week of the fair. Secretary Webber has gone East for the purpose of closing a deal with one of the largest amusement companies on the road, and expects to bring to Paris for the week of the fair a midway of attractions never before seen in Central Kentucky. Webber's celebrated military band of Cincinnati, will give free open air concerts.

The grounds have recently been mowed and preceeing the week of the fair will again receive attention, and present a lawn like appearance.

Rural Routes.

The rural free delivery does not pay and the Postoffice Department is very seriously considering the abolishment of those which pay least. It is said that the grounds upon which many of the routes will be discontinued will be the bad roads. Hereafter no route will be established unless the road is gone over by the inspector and pronounced good. Inspectors will also be sent out by the government to go over many of the routes now in operation and if the roads are not satisfactory they will be discontinued. This action upon the part of the Postoffice Department should stimulate the movement for good roads, for the farmers have gotten accustomed to getting their mail daily and do not want to do without it.

Fine Resident Section.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—Export cattle being sold in Montgomery county have brought high prices. William T. Phelps sold to C. C. McDonald, a buyer, seventy-two head at $7.45. Dave Fox sold to the same buyer forty head $7.25. These cattle will average 1,500 pounds. C. Gatewood, one of the largest handlers of export cattle in that county, refused an offer of $7.65 for 150 1,500 pound cattle. There seems to be a scarcity of good exporters, and the prediction has been freely made that a nice bunch will bring over $8, the highest price in many years.

Many Injured When Seats Collapsed.

As the result of a section of seats collapsing during the performance of John Robinson's circus, showing at Richmond Thursday afternoon five persons were seriously hurt and scores of others were scratched and bruised. The fallen section contained more than two hundred people and it is remarkable that some were not killed.

Damage suits ranging from $500 to $5,000 amounting in the aggregate to more than $14,000 have been filed by those injured in the accident against the show company. The suits were filed by those who suffered broken bones and other serious injuries.

Warrants of attachments were served on the show company, but the management executed an indemnity bond for appearance at the September term of the Madison Circuit Court.

Today the Bourbonites will journey to Colliad for a game with the Sheets-Yarcey tribe and tomorrow the same clubs will meet on the local grounds in a postponed game. Planning to Organize New League

A movement is on foot among the base ball enthusiasts of Harrodsburg, Danville, Houstonville, Lancaster, Perryville and Stanford to organize an independent base ball league. The new organization, if perfected, will be known as the Central Kentucky Base Ball League, and it is likely that the promoters will meet in Danville next week to talk over the prospects. It is understood that no players will be used in the league other than the bonafide residents of the towns and counties which are included in the league, and no salaried players on the outside will be employed.
